

Happy Musician

Welcome to My Music Box Group Piano Teacher Training

Most of us teach one child at a time. A group lesson needs a different plan, and that is what this training gives you.

In a group piano lesson the children listen, sing and play together. They are so happy learning piano together that they look forward to it every week, and that is what keeps them going. A group can stay together for years, and these children rarely give up the way they do in a private lesson.

In your training we will go through the lesson books song by song, in the order your students meet them. You will practice keeping a whole class busy and moving at one pace, and we will spend real time on healthy technique, such as good posture and correct hand position. Those are the habits that last.

We are so excited to start this journey with you.

What you will learn

- Running a group piano class
- Listening, singing, moving, playing and reading in every lesson
- Healthy technique from day one

How it runs

- Video lessons at your own pace
- Feedback on your own teaching video

Before we start

- Log in to your teacher dashboard
- Have your lesson book and workbook nearby

Teach with joy. Teach with clarity.
